The first of these is the fact that the system is not a simple one, but a complex one.
 It is a system of many parts, each of which has its own function, and all of which must work together in order to perform the system's overall function. This is a characteristic of all systems, and it is one of the reasons why systems are so difficult to understand and to control.

The second of these is the fact that the system is not a static one, but a dynamic one.
 It is a system that changes over time, and its behavior is determined by the interactions between its parts. This is a characteristic of all systems, and it is one of the reasons why systems are so difficult to understand and to control.
